Your Tree Inventory at Your Fingertips...

Now more than ever, making the most of limited budgets means operating at the highest efficiency possible, especially when it comes to tree care operations. With EAB having devastated our open spaces and parkways, monitoring which trees need to be removed, have been removed, and what is being replanted in their place can be a daunting task. Your tree inventory can rapidly become out of date if you don't maintain it properly, which can mean being faced with the risk of losing track of your tree population entirely. With online access to our new Graf Natural Resources Online Mapping Center, you can access, edit, and update your tree inventory, whether you have GIS capabilities in-house or not Anytime, Anywhere, Any Way...

Whether you're a Tree Crew Foreman, Administrator, Grounds Superintendent, or IT Professional, you can access, view, edit, and update your tree information. Supported on Desktop Computer, Smartphones, Tablets, and Laptop Computers, the Graf Natural Resources Online Mapping Center can help you track and manage your trees in Real Time. Edits to the inventory that are made in the field become instantly updated for everyone to see, and changes to work orders that are made from the office can be seen by field crews as soon as they are processed. No more missed phone calls, last minute changes that don't get accounted for, or incorrect pruning, removals or plantings.

Compatible with Any Level of Technology You Have...

Whether your organization has a full in-house GIS system, or you've been managing your inventory with another spreadsheet or database software, it can be brought into the Graf Natural Resources Online Mapping Center. It is entirely compatible with all major GIS software, and can be accessed online through any device which can gain access to an internet signal. It can even be run offline, and have edits synced up later when a connection is available. Simple to use, and full of features, come be a part of our mapping community today. This service is provided for free with the purchase of an annual tree inventory maintenance agreement, and will save you much more than your investment in from increases in time management. And we don't just stop at trees! Joining our Mapping Center allows you to Map, Manage, and Monitor any green or grey infrastructure you have. Call today for a demonstration!
